Izra offers advice and support, assisting with access to Ealing's SEND and family support services. You can talk to Izra if you have any questions, especially if your child has complex needs and you need help finding the right services.

Help through schools and childcare settings

If you're concerned about your child's development or believe your child may have additional needs, you can speak to your child's school teacher, nursery teacher, SENCO (Special Educational Needs Coordinator) or Headteacher.

If your child is not yet in nursery or at school – talk to your health visitor. The health visiting service is now part of Early Start Ealing, based at children's centres.
